PART TWO

Please review and familiarize yourself with the Washington, D.C. trip Rules, Guidelines, and Procedures. If a student is sent home by means other than the touring bus, the parent/guardian will pay the expense. For example, if a student gets ill and needs to come home, the cost of that trip will be at the expense of the parent/guardian.

Students that fail to comply with the Rules and Guidelines may a) be assigned to a chaperone as your buddy, b) lose dance time/phone privileges, c) have a room change, d) or an early return home from the trip at your parent/guardian's expense.

I as a parent/guardian have discussed the rules and regulations with my child and understand that I am financially responsible for any damages assessed against my child, the cost of a return trip home, and/or any additional costs that might occur during the Washington, D.C. Trip.
